An epidemic of opiate addiction and prescription drug abuse is sweeping the country. Young people and communities need to be educated on opiate and prescription drug use. It doesn’t matter what your zip code, education level, or income is; addiction knows no boundaries. Addiction can begin with a legitimate prescription for pain or as an experiment that turns into a chronic disease. Many young lives have been lost and this is a tragedy.

About Learn to Cope
Learn to Cope is a peer-led support organization for parents and family members coping with a loved one addicted to opiates or other drugs. Our members are people who love their children deeply, yet still find their families damaged by addiction.

In partnership with the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Learn to Cope has chapters in cities and towns across Massachusetts.
